

FINANCIAL CRISIS
IMPENDS IN TURKEY

Reports Received Here Say Conditions More Chaotic Than Heretofore.

The Terrible Turk has gone down another notch toward the end of his rope. Turkey's finances are shattered, and the Government can no longer pay the salaries of its civil and military functionaries. Whatever may be left of the Turkish army may go on a strike. American consular reports received in Washington show that conditions in Turkey are more chaotic than ever. The Turkish deficit on account of unpaid salaries for Government officers both civil and military, extends over the past five months. A crisis of serious proportions impends, according to American commissioners at Constantinople. Allied high commissioners at Constantinople, it was said, now are considering allowing the Turkish government to raise the "specific" duties, to render them equivalent to an 11 per cent ad valorem duty. Financial relief to some extent may be realized from collection of the property tax from inhabitants of Constantinople, and the revenues from customs, may lighten the burden, it was declared. But Allied representatives, the Department of Commerce was advised, view the situation as most serious, for discontent and disorder among the people are growing daily.

PROUD PAPA SWELLS UP
LIKE POUTER PIGEON

NEW YORK, April 22.—When Al S. Beckner, usually the last word in sartorial art, showed up in Justice Tierney's court with the upper three buttons of his vest opened, his fellow attaches believed this to be a spring innovation in dress. Nothing so stylish. Justice Tierney inquired, and Beckner, blushing deeply, whispered in the smiling justice's ear: "Boy, eight pounds, yesterday." Receiving the warm congratulations of the justice and the hearty

MOTORCYCLES AID
WORK OF POLICE

Suburbs Now Given Better Protection With More Ground Patrolled.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—"The wave of crime which has been sweeping the country has focused public attention on the motorcycle, for time and again it has been proved to be the most effective method of coping with the situation," says a motorcycle official. "Many of the bandits and outlaws rely on automobiles to extend their operations and the police departments of the country have responded by buying and using the speedy and more mobile motorcycles as never before. "Municipalities with adequate motorcycle police protection have had no trouble in holding the lawbreakers in check. Under the old order of things, policemen on foot patrolled the downtown districts, whereas motorcycles have extended police protection to the suburbs, and enabled the business districts to be more efficiently protected. "Because of their lightness compared with their engine power, motorcycles can get away rapidly, and can be maneuvered and handled in traffic with surprising ease. Their narrow tread enables them to penetrate the traffic mazes with amazing facility. "Practically all of the large cities of the country have motorcycle squads. New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Detroit, San Francisco, Denver, and all of the big cities rely upon motorcycle police to keep the crooks on the run. "In addition to the city police, many of the States have already organized State motorcycle constabularies. New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Michigan, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois, Connecticut, and Colorado either have State motorcycle police or are planning to establish them."
